Description

Aniseed China Star (Star Anise) item would make a great as a gift for someone special. Illicium Verum Part of Plant Used : Fruit Source : China Extraction Method : Steam Distillation Anise Seed Essential Oil is used for upset stomach, intestinal gas, "runny nose, " and as an expectorant to increase productive cough, as a diuretic to increase urine flow, and as an appetite stimulant. This oil can give relief from rheumatic and arthritic pains by stimulating blood circulation, and by reducing the sensation of pain in the affected areas. This essential oil also has antiseptic properties which give wounds an effective protective layer against infections and sepsis. This aids in the faster healing of wounds. The warming effect of this oil on the respiratory and the circulatory systems makes it a cordial. This property helps counter colds, the deposition of phlegm, and problems like rheumatism and arthritis. The essential oil of anise is toxic to insects and smaller animals, therefore its smell keeps insects away. For this reason, this oil can be employed to drive away insects by using it in fumigants, vaporizers, and sprays. Our this
